

Lenka Fiala

Born 13. 8. 1992

employee of the department of Economics has successfully participated in the forty hour Didactic Training for PhD-students at the Tilburg School of Economics and Management.

Course contents comprised (theoretical) backgrounds of teaching, individual development and application of practical teaching skills and reflection on personal professional development as a teacher.

Furthermore, the above mentioned employee has participated in the individual follow up of the course. During this a lecture or tutorial was observed, video taped and reflected upon afterwards.

This feed back conversation generated learning points for the improvement of personal professional performance as a teacher.
